

Grant writing information sessions and masterclass workshops

The Department of State Growth is pleased to once again offer Tasmanian businesses and community groups the opportunity to attend free information sessions on how to write successful grant applications.

This year, extended workshops are also being offered for people who would like to further develop their grant application writing skills.

Whether you're new to grant writing, or you've applied for grants in the past, these sessions will help you gain a better understanding of the submission process through practical and interactive activities.

Information sessions* will cover:

- the Tasmanian Government's business grants writing handbook
- how to find grants you're eligible to apply for
- what's involved in putting together an application
- how to make your application stand out.

The masterclass workshops will cover the same material as the information sessions, with extra time allowed for you to work on your own grant submissions and take part in activities to strengthen your skills. Please feel free to bring along a grant submission you have previously worked on, are working on, or an idea you would like to progress for the future.

For more information or to register, contact Business Tasmania on 1800 440 026, email ask@business.tas.gov.au or visit the events page on www.business.tas.gov.au

See the table below to find a session in your area. Numbers are limited for each event.
